Dear Hiring Team,

I am writing to apply for Bloomberg's Returnship and Reorientation (R&R) Program. This initiative strongly resonates with me, as it recognizes the value of experienced professionals who bring depth of industry knowledge, analytical rigour, and diverse perspectives back into research-driven roles.

I bring over ten years of professional experience across analytics, business research, technology, and operations, with a strong foundation in analysing data, identifying trends, and producing structured, insight-led reporting. My background includes market and operational analysis, performance evaluation, and translating complex information into clear written outputs for senior stakeholders, skills that align closely with Bloomberg Research's mission.

During my career, I have worked independently and collaboratively to interpret quantitative and qualitative data, generate actionable insights, and communicate findings through concise reports and presentations. More recently, I have strengthened my analytical toolkit through formal study and hands-on projects in data science, sustainability, and policy analysis, ensuring my skills remain current and relevant.

I am particularly drawn to Bloomberg Intelligence and BloombergNEF's focus on market data, macro themes, and policy-driven insights. I am highly motivated, intellectually curious, and eager to develop new viewpoints while contributing meaningfully to Bloomberg's global research offering.

I would welcome the opportunity to re-enter a research-focused environment through the R&R program and contribute my experience, analytical mindset, and commitment to high-quality research.

Sincerely,
Abhinav Dixit
